Dawes Findings Please Allies; Germany Waits

Official Spokesmen Declare Opinion Has Not Yet Been Formed

FRENCH VIEW JUSTIFIED

Contact Between Entente Governments Unlikely Before
Paris Elections

By Associated Press
Paris—After 24 hours consideration of the reports of the two reparations committees, spokesmen for official circles Thursday declared no official opinion had been formed of the recommendations contained in the documents. Satisfaction, however, was freely expressed that the experts had found evidence tending to confirm the French attitude regarding Germany.

It is assumed by the officials that the Dawes report justifies what the French have been saying for three years as to these four points:

That Germany was allowing herself to be sent out of the country; that she was practicing mad prodigality in her budget; that she was neglecting to impose proper taxation; and that she was excessively developing her entire industrial installation in flagrant contradiction to her continued plea of distress.

MEETING IS UNLIKELY

One of the unexpected results of the filing of the reports is to end all talk of an approaching entente conference. It is declared at the foreign office that official circles are ignorant of any intention by Premier MacDonald of Great Britain to come to France and are unaware of any tentative suggestion to organize a meeting of the British premier with M. Poincaré.

"The reparations commission has been on the floor," is the stereotyped reply as to what the allied governments are likely to do concerning the experts' plan. The impression given out at the Quai D'Orsay is that there will be no contact between the Entente governments or their premiers before the French elections. Meanwhile it is thought probable that a reparations commission will endeavor to draw out the attitude of the German government and that it will refer the report to the allied governments only after it has acquired a clear idea as to whether the Berlin government is ready to accept the experts' suggestion.

CAL KEEPS LEAD IN MICHIGAN PRIMARY

Additional Returns Fail to Change Democratic Ballot
Results

Detroit, Mich.—Calvin Coolidge had a lead of approximately 110,000 votes over Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California Thursday as scattered returns were added to the tabulation of votes cast in Monday's presidential primary election. The missing precincts are scattered among 64 counties and are not regarded as likely to make any appreciable change in the final result.

Additional returns made no change in the situation on the Democratic ballot. Henry Ford maintaining a lead of more than 2,000.

The official count probably will be required to determine whether Mrs. Etta C. Boltwood or Mrs. Evelyn S. Johnson of the Johnson campaign would be constituted of a number of individual and virtually independent state contests, with only such general coordination as might be suggested by Senator Johnson.

JOHNSON VACATES CHICAGO QUARTERS

Chicago—Hotel rooms in "Presidential Row" which have served as headquarters for Senator Hiram Johnson's campaign will be available to new tenants next Monday. Officers of the hotel expected the Johnson suite would be vacated Thursday or Friday.

Files and papers from the hotel suite will be transferred to the law offices of Harold L. Ickes, Illinois manager for the Chicago campaign.

When Mr. Hitchcock withdrew from Chicago quarters in February following Mr. Ickes' appointment as Illinois manager, he emphasized that in a broader sense the Johnson campaign would be constituted of a number of individual and virtually independent state contests, with only such general coordination as might be suggested by Senator Johnson.

DEMOCRATIC TAX PLAN REPORTED WITH NEW BILL

Proposal Carries Maximum
Surtax Rate of 40 Per Cent on $500,000

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The new revenue bill was formally reported to the senate Thursday and along with it was presented a new Democratic tax plan carrying an income tax schedule somewhat similar to the Longworth plan adopted by the houses and turned down by the majority of the senate finance committee.

The Democratic proposal which its sponsors believe will have the support of the Republican insurgent group, carries a maximum surtax rate of 40 per cent on incomes in excess of $500,000 as compared with the maximum of 25 per cent on incomes in excess of $100,000 in the finance committee bill.

Normal income tax rates proposed in the Democratic plan are 2 per cent on incomes up to $4,000, 4 per cent on incomes between $4,000 and $8,000 and 6 per cent on incomes above $8,000. All heads of families, irrespective of the amount of their income would be given the present exemption of $2,500. No other change in the exemptions is proposed.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, presented the Democratic substitute just after Chairman Smoot had brought in the majority report of the committee and had announced that he probably would call the bill up for consideration next Wednesday.

It would be useless to consider it before then, he said, as senators would not have time to sufficiently inform themselves of its provisions.

ATTACK MAY PUT WHEELER IN 1924 RACE

TRY TO DISCREDIT WORK

Senator Walsh Claims Charges
Are Entirely Unfounded
in His Belief

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special correspondent to the Appleton Post-Crescent

Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—Have the Republicans committed another political blunder? The Democrats, including men like Senator Walsh of Montana, are convinced that the trumping up of charges against Senator Wheeler of Montana is simply an effort to discredit the work he has been doing in investigating the department of justice.

The suddenness with which a grand jury indictment was returned against Mr. Wheeler for something that is alleged to have happened before he was sworn in as a United States senator and the fact that Albert B. Fall, re-elected a large sum of money while in office and yet was not subject to investigation by the department of justice is pointed to by the Democrats as proof of the political nature of the attack on Senator Wheeler.

OTHERS SUBJECT TO PROBE

If the technical violation against the junior senator from Montana should hold in court, then there are others who may be subject to investigation. Indeed, the case probably will not be tried in Montana at all but here, and the senate investigating committee probably will ask if the department of justice has investigated the records of all the members of the United States Senate before they were sworn in or whether they have confined their efforts to the one man who has been uncovered as irregularly in the department of justice.

Politically speaking, the attack on Mr. Wheeler may cost the Republicans the state of Montana, for Mr. Wheeler has achieved a certain amount of attention as a result of his efforts here and he is popular with the radical elements. If the Republicans make him a martyr, they may put him into the presidential race or make him a possibility, at least, for the vice presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket.

"DEMOCRATIC LAFFOLLETTE"

For Senator K. Wheeler is a sort of a Democratic Laffollette. The more he is attacked the stronger he seems to get. His fights in Montana against certain interests have made him the center of fierce controversy and while the Republican administration in Washington through the postoffice department inspectors has brought on the grand jury proceedings, there are enough enemies of Mr. Wheeler in Montana to add fuel to the flames and help the case along.

Questionably the method by which the grand jury was obtained, all the letters, telegrams and documents bearing upon the choosing of the grand jury and the instructions from Washington to the local district attorney will be brought before the senate investigating committee here. But it would not be surprising if

Near Death

Hugo Stinnes, German industrial leader, is near death in a Berlin sanitarium. His health has been poor for two weeks, but he was well on the road to recovery when new complications set in, which render his case almost hopeless, according to late reports.

German Industrial Leader Near Death As Double Pneumonia Sets In

By Associated Press
Berlin—The condition of Hugo Stinnes was viewed Thursday afternoon as hopeless as the result of an added complication in the nature of double pneumonia. He is conscious and is said to be resigned to the impending end.

Herr Stinnes had been ill in his private apartment two weeks before being removed to the sanitarium where he was operated upon for gall stones four weeks ago. The progress of his recovery was such that his physicians believed he would be able to leave last week for a southern climate but fresh complications set in, necessitating second and third operations, the last of which was performed Sunday.

Despite the gravity of his condition the industrial leader persisted in keeping up active conversation with the members of his family, all of whom are at his bedside, and the various secretaries who called upon him to report on urgent business matters. On Tuesday he repeatedly inquired for details regarding the Dawes report.

There was a slight betterment in his condition late Wednesday but shortly after noon Thursday he was seized by fever spasms caused by inflammation of the lungs.

PARIS WELCOMES RUMANIAN RULERS

By Associated Press
Paris—Wearing a natty French blue toque and a handsome fur coat, Queen Marie of Rumania, Europe's youngest royal grandmother, arrived with King Ferdinand at the royal station in the Bois de Boulogne Thursday for a three day's visit of state.

The queen was the object of an enthusiastic ovation as she rode down the Champs Elysees beside Mme. Millerand, wife of the French president. The Parisians, having no king, were always enthusiastic about the queen's visit. Her tribute was a personal one, inspired in no small measure by the beauty of the Queen.

Disclosures Come in Interval of Miller Brothers Fraud Investigation

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—In an interim between testimony about the Miller brothers land fraud case in Oklahoma and the Old Hickory Powder plant litigation in Tennessee, the Daugherty committee Thursday dipped a finger into the controversy which has arisen over indictments of the committee prosecutor, Senator Wheeler, by a Montana grand jury.

Two witnesses were questioned briefly about the charges against Senator Wheeler and various circumstances that attended or followed his indictment.

William J. Burns, chief of the justice department's secret agents, testified that he had sent several men in to Montana on the Wheeler case, the first three or four weeks ago at the request of the post office department. He had talked to former Attorney General Daugherty about the case, he said, but replied in the negative to a question as to whether Daugherty had said he wanted to get something on Wheeler.

OFFICIAL TESTIFIES

The other witness was Arthur Lambdin, an official of the test company; here, who told the committee that George B. Lockwood, secretary of the Republican national committee, talked Wednesday from Washington to Blair Cohen at Great Falls, Mont., where the indictment against Wheeler was returned on Tuesday. Burns later identified Cohen as an employee of the national committee.

The purpose of introducing Lambdin's testimony was not revealed by Senator Wheeler, but he told his colleagues in his senate speech of Wednesday that he had received word indirectly through the Republican national headquarters here some time ago that he was under investigation.

Haynes Urges Women To New Rum Crusade

National Celebrities Talk Be- fore Conclave of Committee for Law Enforcement in Washington

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The women of America were called upon "to enter upon a second crusade" for prohibition by Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner at the opening session Thursday of the convention here of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement.

Addresses by government officials and others, a message urging respect for all laws from Secretary Hughes and a reception to the delegates at the White House marked the convention's program for Thursday, with Mrs. Herbert Hoover presiding and Mrs. Robert Lansing acting as secretary.

The meeting is sponsored by Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., widow of Grover Cleveland, and Mrs. Taft, and Thursday's list of speakers included, besides Commissioner Haynes, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General, Senator Walker George, Secretary Wilbur, Kathleen Norris, novelist, and representatives of a number of women's organizations.

"All citizens," said Secretary Hughes in his message, "respect the laws that like. The test of devotion to our institutions is respect for law itself. Respect for law is quite apart from approval of particular laws. It is respect for organized society, and in a republic, for the rule of the people through representative government."

WANT LAW ENFORCEMENT

Mr. Haynes told the delegates the "call to a second great crusade" was "not so much in the interest of prohibition but in the interest of its enforcement and particularly the observance of law and the constitution of the United States." Assuring them that "bad men are elected by good women who stay away from the polls on election day," he urged that all women assume the full responsibilities of citizenship, including jury service and taking a part in "presenting nonpartisan propaganda."

Mrs. Willebrandt declared, "a good old fashioned revival of devotion to the constitution is needed now," and asserted that "whole communities have civic sleeping sickness."

"Corruption in high places is revolting," she said, "but the condition that will prove fatal to this country is lethargy in local government."

Urging that law enforcement and evidence collecting bureaus be taken out of politics, she also suggested organized study by women of candidates for county, state and national offices and that the delegates become a "positive force" to "inspire obedience to law and definitely set social standards against serving liquor at parties and clubs."

Mrs. Norris described prohibition as a "new fashion in morals" which she described as an issue the women "are determined to put in all parties."

Washington, D. C.—While friends of Senator Hiram Johnson gather in Washington to consider the status of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, neither he nor his supporters have given any indication of their plans or the possible effects upon their future activities of the primary returns from Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska.

Senator Johnson denied knowledge of the impending conference when his attention was called to reports that it was to be held and made the same comment—"I know nothing about it"—with reference to predictions that he might soon withdraw as an active candidate. Failure of the campaign methods thus far pursued to get the desired number of delegates in the west and middle west, however, has obviously disappointed some of his supporters, and they are expected to suggest various changes.

The same returns, on the other hand, have proved encouraging to the Coolidge managers, and they are going forward with post convention plans on the assumption that the president is assured the nomination.

TRADES COUNCIL PUTS ITS O. K. ON IMMIGRATION LAW

Union Labor Urges Badger Congressmen to Support Johnson Bill

The Johnson immigration bill now before the United States congress was given whole hearted endorsement by Appleton Trades and Labor council at its regular meeting in Trades and Labor hall Wednesday evening. The committee appointed to investigate the advisability of organizing a building trades section of the Trades and Labor council reported favorably on the project. The measure was adopted by the council, and organization of the section will be completed at a future meeting. Members in debate denounced the propaganda in opposition to the Johnson immigration bill to the effect that the bill does not permit wives and children of aliens living in this country to come over to America. This was branded as false. Secretary Black was instructed to communicate with Congressmen George J. Schneider and Senator Robert M. La Follette and Irvin Lenroot urging their support of the bill that is designed to restrict immigration and protect American workmen.

The Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Marth returned Wednesday from Milwaukee where they visited relatives. The Rev. Mr. Marth is pastor of Zion Lutheran church.

WILD ORANGES

A story abounding in thrills and suspense and carrying through it a study of fear and its control of the human mind, has been made into a photoplay in "Wild Oranges" which King Vidor filmed for the Goldwyn studios. It is the current attraction at the Elite theatre.

"Wild Oranges" is one of the most popular works from the pen of America's most celebrated novelist, Joseph Hergesheimer. It was written and published several years ago, before the author had become so internationally recognized.

The story deals with a man, embittered against society by the death of his wife, who sails with one sailor on his yacht to the Georgia coast, and there meets a strange trio—two men, one of them mad, and a beautiful girl. The experiences of the five during the brief stay in the lagoon make up one of the most gripping stories filmed in years. Frank Mayo plays admirably the role John Woodfolk, the man who seeks Virginia Valli as the beautiful girl who has lived her life in the Georgia swamps, secluded from the world on his yacht. Nigel de Brulier as the aged grandfather who has brought his granddaughter to the swamps because of his unexplainable fear of humanity. Charles A. Post, as the giant Nicholas, the half-wit who lives with the other two in the swamps, and Ford Sterling as Halvard, Woolfolk's sailor, make up the cast. Only five persons appear in the entire picture. The photography is exceptional. Most of the scenes were taken in the

NOTED DENTIST TALKS AT MEETING

Between 25 and 30 dentists from Menasha, Neenah and Appleton, attended the dinner given by Appleton Dental Study club in the French room of Conway hotel Wednesday night when Dr. Oskar Solbrig of Milwaukee gave an address.

Dr. Solbrig practiced dentistry in Paris for 25 years, but when the war broke out fled from the country and worked as a dental surgeon in a hospital in Berlin. One of the most interesting features of his talk was a description of dental conditions in Europe.

His talk also included a discussion of the fundamental principles involved in dentures and the indirect method of cast gold inlays. He is a graduate of the Pennsylvania Dental college, but lived and practiced in Europe until conditions forced him to come to America.

Local dentists were pleased with the way Dr. Solbrig discussed the subject for he went deeply into it and presented his material in a precise and definite manner. He was shown through the city and valley and was especially interested in the manufacture of paper at a Kimberly mill. Dr. Solbrig is the guest of Dr. F. C. Babcock during his visit to Appleton.

The oath of office was administered by Theodore Berg, city attorney. Thirteen years ago, when he was elected one of Appleton's first commissioners, under the new commission form of government, Mr. Goodland was sworn into office by his father, the late John Goodland, Sr., then circuit judge of this district. Wednesday Mr. Goodland, the mayor-elect renewed the oath to support the constitution of the United States and of the state of Wisconsin and to discharge the duties of his office to the best of his ability.

Those present at the ceremony were Mayor Henry Reuter, Fred Bachman, city treasurer; E. L. Williams, city clerk; Lawrence Lutz, Charles Emder, George Loos, and A. L. Jacobson.

Mayor-elect Goodland will assume the duties of his office next Tuesday when the old council will adjourn sine die and the new council will organize, with Mr. Goodland presiding.

SELECT LAMPS FOR BRIDGE AT LAWE-ST

Ornamental lights to be installed by the city on the Lawe-st bridge were selected at a meeting of the fire and water committee of the common council Wednesday evening. The council had referred the matter to this committee with power to act. The lamps are of a very attractive design and will add greatly to the appearance of the concrete bridge on Lawe-st. The lights will be set on 12-inch concrete posts that measure 8 feet from the bottom to the top of the lamps.

COOLIDGE ON FIRST BALLOT

The primary elections held this week in Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska virtually assure the nomination of Mr. Coolidge for president. Coolidge carried all three states over Hiram Johnson. In Michigan it was a rout, and it was practically the same in Illinois and Nebraska. In Illinois Coolidge won notwithstanding the fact that the Small machine, again victorious in its own behalf, was supporting Johnson.

These three states combined have 113 delegates to the national convention. The president's managers had already claimed 377 delegates, so that on paper at least Mr. Coolidge now has a total of 490 votes. This is within 65 votes of a majority of the convention. It is, therefore, all over but the shouting. Within the next few days additional delegates will be landed in the bandwagon sufficient to make certain the president's nomination on the first ballot. The Republican organization can proceed in the formulation of its campaign plans on the fact that Coolidge will be their standard bearer, and govern themselves accordingly. The only things to be settled are who will preside over the convention, who is to deliver the keynote address and what the platform shall contain.

Now that Coolidge's nomination is settled there remains, so far as Johnson is concerned, the question of what position the Californian will take in the election. Mr. La Follette's open break with the Republicans is taken for granted. He is going to head a third party and make the one effort of his life to attain the presidency. Will Johnson follow La Follette, on the long, long trail to super-progress, or will he preserve his regularity and stick to the storm-tossed ship? One guess perhaps is as good as another, and ours is that he will be found in the big procession.

The prospect of an inconclusive election increases as the days go on. It is conceded that with La Follette in the field as a third party nominee he would carry four or five of the northwestern states and possibly more. If this prediction is correct it would rob the regulars of enough votes in the electoral college to prevent the election of Mr. Coolidge. This would throw the election into the house of representatives, and at this distance it is futile to speculate on what would happen in such an event.

THE RESULT IN ILLINOIS

It may not be a surprise in the present state of Illinois politics that Len Small has been renominated by popular vote for governor, but as a phenomenon of psychology it is difficult to comprehend. If Illinois has ever had a worse administration than it has received at the hands of the Small machine, it has not been brought to public attention. The orgy of that machine in the manhandling of government and public funds is notorious. It has had very few duplications in the country. Small himself was arrested and tried for misappropriation of state moneys. Although he was acquitted the trial, in the light of subsequent events, was a farce. Certainly it was established that large sums of interest on public funds mysteriously disappeared and were not accounted for. The record of appointments and pardons under this administration is enough to bring the blush of shame to the state. Whether or not

Small himself is corrupt, there has been venality and debauchery all about him.

There are hundreds of thousands of voters in Illinois who are disgusted with the revelations of crookedness brought out at Washington, and yet they have voted to retain conditions in their state not far removed. Small has been charged with almost every offense that could attach to a public official, and while he has not been convicted in a court and may never have committed a dishonest act, circumstantial evidence places him in a bad light. We do not believe anyone, even his warmest supporters will claim that Small typifies what is best and cleanest in American government and politics. When people vote to keep in power such men they are not entitled to good government. They are entitled to what they are getting in Illinois, and to what they have been getting at Washington.

The results in Illinois raise the question as to just how far we have progressed in self-government and in the capacity to discriminate between policies and government that are to our benefit or to our detriment. It is not improbable that the extremes to which the Chicago Tribune went in its fight on Small are responsible for his renomination. There is such a thing as carrying denunciation too far. It is better than to appraise the result on the intelligent, clean people of Illinois went to the polls and deliberately voted for Small on the merit of his record.

SATISFYING THE ACTOR URGE

When the screen heroine registers anguish or the stage hero sets his manly jaw, its a safe wager that, subconsciously, a good part of the audience are wondering how they would appear in the role. The dramatic impulse is one of the most deeply seated in human nature. It first shows itself in children's games. Four-year-old Tommy cavorts around the room and proclaims he is a "horsesie." Bill and Junior become pirates with the clothes-basket as their brig, and Mary pins up her curls and "plays lady"—all because the dramatic impulse seeks expression.

Nor does the dramatic impulse die when years of discretion arrive. People merely are afraid to reveal it. Many a staid business man is inwardly playing the parts of bronzed adventurers or sardonic, villains or clowns, while the hostess who hands you your tea may be secretly imagining she is a gracious movie countess.

Towns and cities are paying more and more attention to providing expression for the dramatic urge. Never before has there been so much interest in home-talent productions of all kinds, including plays, pageants and musical comedies. One hundred and fifty-two cities state that community dramatics are a regular part of their recreation programs and forty-three of them have community theaters. Elmhurst and Cincinnati have novel theaters on wheels, while Huntington, West Virginia, has built outdoor theaters on its two beaches where groups or community players have entertained the crowds.

Those who do not act in a community play or pageant can satisfy their love for the theatrical by directing, stage managing, play writing or designing costumes or scenery. One of the most valuable features of the community drama movement has been supplying an outlet for the dramatic longings of stage-struck and movie-struck young girls, who otherwise might leave the home town bound for Broadway or Hollywood, and, in the great majority of cases, for disillusion and unhappiness. If a girl makes good in amateur theatricals, it is a solid step toward the larger success she may be capable of attaining.

WHERE SHALL I GO TO CHURCH?

As the Christian Herald reports that there are 45,457,366 churchgoers in the United States, or less than half of the nation's population, the head of a large advertising company of New York tells clergymen to resort to paid publicity to fill the churches. He tells them to let the public know what they offer in their services and to live up to the rule of "truth in advertising" by giving what they promise.

Many persons do not think of going to church at all. Many of the professed members of various denominations attend services very infrequently. Church attendance could be increased greatly by good publicity. Titles of sermons, special services, well known visiting preachers, are among the features which, if properly put before the people, would interest more persons to religion.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE ANABOLISM OF SKINNY WINNIE

This is the fifth of a series of talks about Skinny Winnie which we are now broadcasting from this small but powerful station. Without boasting it is impossible to say that our signals are probably received clearly at more distant points than any other station which has a daily program. And this series for thin scrawny half starved creatures who still cherish an ambition to fatten up and maybe capture a near sighted man should, we feel, dispose of the base insinuation some have made, namely that the long suffering conductor of this station prefers fat folk. Just between friends, and for publication, I do advise the young man contemplating matrimony to pick off a plump one if he can conveniently arrange it as such.

In the latest chapter we gave the simple exercises which Dr. Eliza M. Mosher, one of the foremost authorities on the subject of postures or sagging of digestive organs, advocates in the treatment of such cases. They are pretty good, only, to our mind, Dr. Mosher kind of weakens the general effect by bringing on one of those elastic "exercises" to round out the seance. At any rate the victim of visceropostosis can do no harm if used as she directs in the seance we outlined.

Movements Nos. 9, 11, 12, and 13 of the Brady symphony, which I cannot do help in the anabolism of many gaunt, thin persons, for reasons which I explained in the preceding talk. Here are the movements, which should be taken with little or nothing on, with an open window or two, regularly each night and each morning with no interruptions from day to day:

9. Lie prone on floor, palms on floor beside head and a pillow under abdomen. Breathe out, and give a kick or flop with both legs, sufficient to lift lower half of body free from the floor for a moment, upon what should be your chest as a fulcrum. The body falls to the floor again with a slight thump. Repeat each seance for the first week or two, and later increase the number of flops to eight or 10 each seance. Need I add that you may draw in a breath after each flop.

11. Lie supine, hands on floor beside hips. Without lifting head or shoulders, slowly raise both legs up to vertical as you breathe in, then slowly lower them or floor again as you breathe out. Repeat only two or three times each seance for the first week or two, and gradually increase week by week to 20 times.

12. From same position as in No. 11, without lifting heels from floor, pull yourself up to sitting position as you breathe out, then let yourself easily sink back to supine as you breathe in. If necessary place heavy pillow or blanket over your feet to hold them down until you've mastered the movement. Repeat only twice the first week or two, and gradually increase until you can do it 15 to 20 times each seance without fatigue or cramp.

13. The same as No. 11, except that the legs are carried beyond the vertical and the knees fixed so that the thighs nearly or quite press down upon the abdomen a moment with each movement. Repeat from two times in the early weeks to 10 or 12 times after several weeks of training.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

MILK DIET

(1) Would milk alone give sufficient nourishment to support the body indefinitely? (2) Would milk alone be constipating? (3) Would milk alone impair the digestive organs in any way? (4) If milk alone is not enough, what other food must be taken with it to maintain health and strength? (O. B. A.)

Answer.—(1) No. (2) No. (3) No. (4) Some fresh fruit and vegetables. An exclusive milk diet is natural and adequate in every way for young infants, but is insufficient for older children or adults. Milk is deficient in iron, but that is provided for in the newborn infant by a considerable reserve store of iron in the body, enough to tide the infant over for a few months. It is too bulky, being 87 per cent water, for the normally active child or adult to take enough to get sufficient fuel and building material from. Milk, however, more nearly approaches the ideal than any other single item of diet, and a quart a day should be a part of the dietary of every child, if a pure fresh milk is obtainable.

BUT NO DOUBT HE'LL BE ABLE TO FIND A SATISFACTORY STRAW HAT AT ONE OF THE RESTAURANTS WHEN THE SEASON STARTS.

Yep, the man who takes an umbrella to church and leaves it in the vestibule has true Christian faith.

Here's another indication of the back-to-the-city movement. Man in the Fourth ward wants to exchange his house and barn for a house and lot in the city.

ROTARY SLOGANS

We'd like to cop the ten dollars for the Rotary slogan, so we'll give you a few of our own:

1. "I'm the guy who took the rot out of Rotary."

2. "Hello, Rotey! Watcha got on the hip?"

3. "Howdy, Rota Harry, when did you get out?"

4. "Say, bo, did George W. call you any names yet?"

ROLLO.

Hundred Years Since Athenaeum Was Organized

(Bernard Chamberlain, in The Echo de Paris.)

London has no English academy. But the capital is very proud of its Athenaeum, a club for authors and artists.

This club is celebrating its centenary. It is at the corner of Waterloo Square and Pall Mall. As in all English clubs, the rooms are filled with soft, comfortable armchairs, and every member has his favorite seat, waiter and place at the table. The corner place was once the favorite lounging place of Macaulay, the historian, an honored spot in the clubroom. It is shown to visitors, and is granted to the most famous living member of the club for his use as a supreme distinction. Viscount Morley was one of its occupants.

There is a temperance corner in the club, so named because the poet, Hook, never ordered anything there but tea, while a well-trained waiter never brought him anything but whiskey. This corner always resounds with laughter in the otherwise solemn Athenaeum.

Dinner, the Marquis of Salisbury, Darwin, Carlyle and Huxley lunched at the club. Browning was a frequent visitor there; Ruskin came more rarely. Herbert Spencer played billiards in the club, while Turner, with his visionary eyes, meditated at a solitary table.

Napoleon III, Montalembert, Guizot, Talleyrand, Wagner, Liszt, Gounod and Momijsen were all guests of the club.

Formerly a person had to wait 18 years before he could become a member of this little paradise of letters. But if he came there very early, he could at least pass a few years of his full manhood and all of his old age at the club.

Cigarettes were first prohibited in the Athenaeum, but later were tolerated, though there was a small smoking room. The Greek entrance of the Athenaeum witnessed the solemn reconciliation of Dickens and Truicracy who had been enemies for 20 years.

Changing State Of Jap Women

(Albert Maybon, in La Revue Mondiale, Paris.)

Feminism in Japan is really a revolutionary movement. It is directed against matrimony, and matrimony is the basis upon which Japanese society stands. Matrimony in Japan is a religious duty, for a man must have children who will continue the cult of his ancestors.

A wedding in Japan is less the union of two individuals than the union of two families. Bride and bridegroom often do not know about their marriage until their wedding day.

If a woman does not have children; the husband may divorce her, and although the woman has a legal right to demand that her consent be asked, she seldom does so. The Japanese woman obviously is sacrificed to the social system. After being the property of her father, she becomes the property of her husband, who will love her for her own sake than for the sake of the sons to whom she gives birth.

The aristocratic and middle-class woman of modern Japan leads a pitiful life. She follows the example of her husband in answering at woman's rights. She is not interested in anything but her own person; and all her ambitions may be expressed in the brief formula, the desire to please.

In the lower classes the status of woman is less pitiful. Woman works there just as her husband does. She advises him and directs all household affairs. But her working conditions are deplorable. More than a million Japanese women work in factories.

Q. Give some data about Vesuvius? K. McC.

A. Vesuvius is a volcano near the eastern shore of the Bay of Naples, about 10 miles from the city. It is a solitary mountain rising from the valley of Campania with a base of about 30 miles in circumference. The earliest eruption was in 79 A. D. Since that year there have been more than 80 eruptions. The most recent eruptions occurred in 1872, 1873, 1895, 1906, and 1923.

Q. What is the story connected with the song "The Spanish Cavalier"? A. C. R.

A. The song was composed by a youth of San Francisco who shipped as a cabin boy on board the flagship of the Pacific Squadron about 1876. The vessel lay for some time at Panama, where he deserted and enlisted in the Panama army as a drummer boy, tiring of this he worked his way back to San Francisco where he was arrested as a deserter from the United States Navy. Through a daughter of a member of Congress, who was an old sweetheart, he was released. In her honor he composed two songs based upon music which he had heard

All of them work from 12 to 13 hours a day and they get less than a minimum wage. Those unfortunate women are too humble and too resigned to object to such exploitation; but Christian missionaries, politicians and even the government are now beginning to take care of them.

In Panama. To his bitter disappointment she had later refused to recognize him. He then cast aside the songs. Later he sang one, "The Spanish Cavalier," before a San Francisco actress who appreciated it. Shortly afterward it was produced in public. It was not published until 1880. The publisher paid $50 for the song.

Q. How long has tattooing been practiced? R. S. F.

A. It is impossible to say when and where the custom of tattooing began, but it is of very ancient origin. In the tombs near Thebes were found painted representations of white men with tattooed bodies, and in his commentaries Caesar writes of Britons being tattooed.

Q. Is the "Unknown Soldier's" race known? E. F.

A. The Cemeterial Branch of the War Department says that there is absolutely no way of telling of identifying the race of the unknown soldier who was buried at Arlington Cemetery Armistice Day. This soldier has been re-buried several times. Sergeant Edward Young selected the Unknown American Soldier from the bodies in the American cemetery at Chalons-sur-Marne, the selection being made by placing a rose on one of four caskets of unknown dead.

Dutch Weddings Often By Proxy

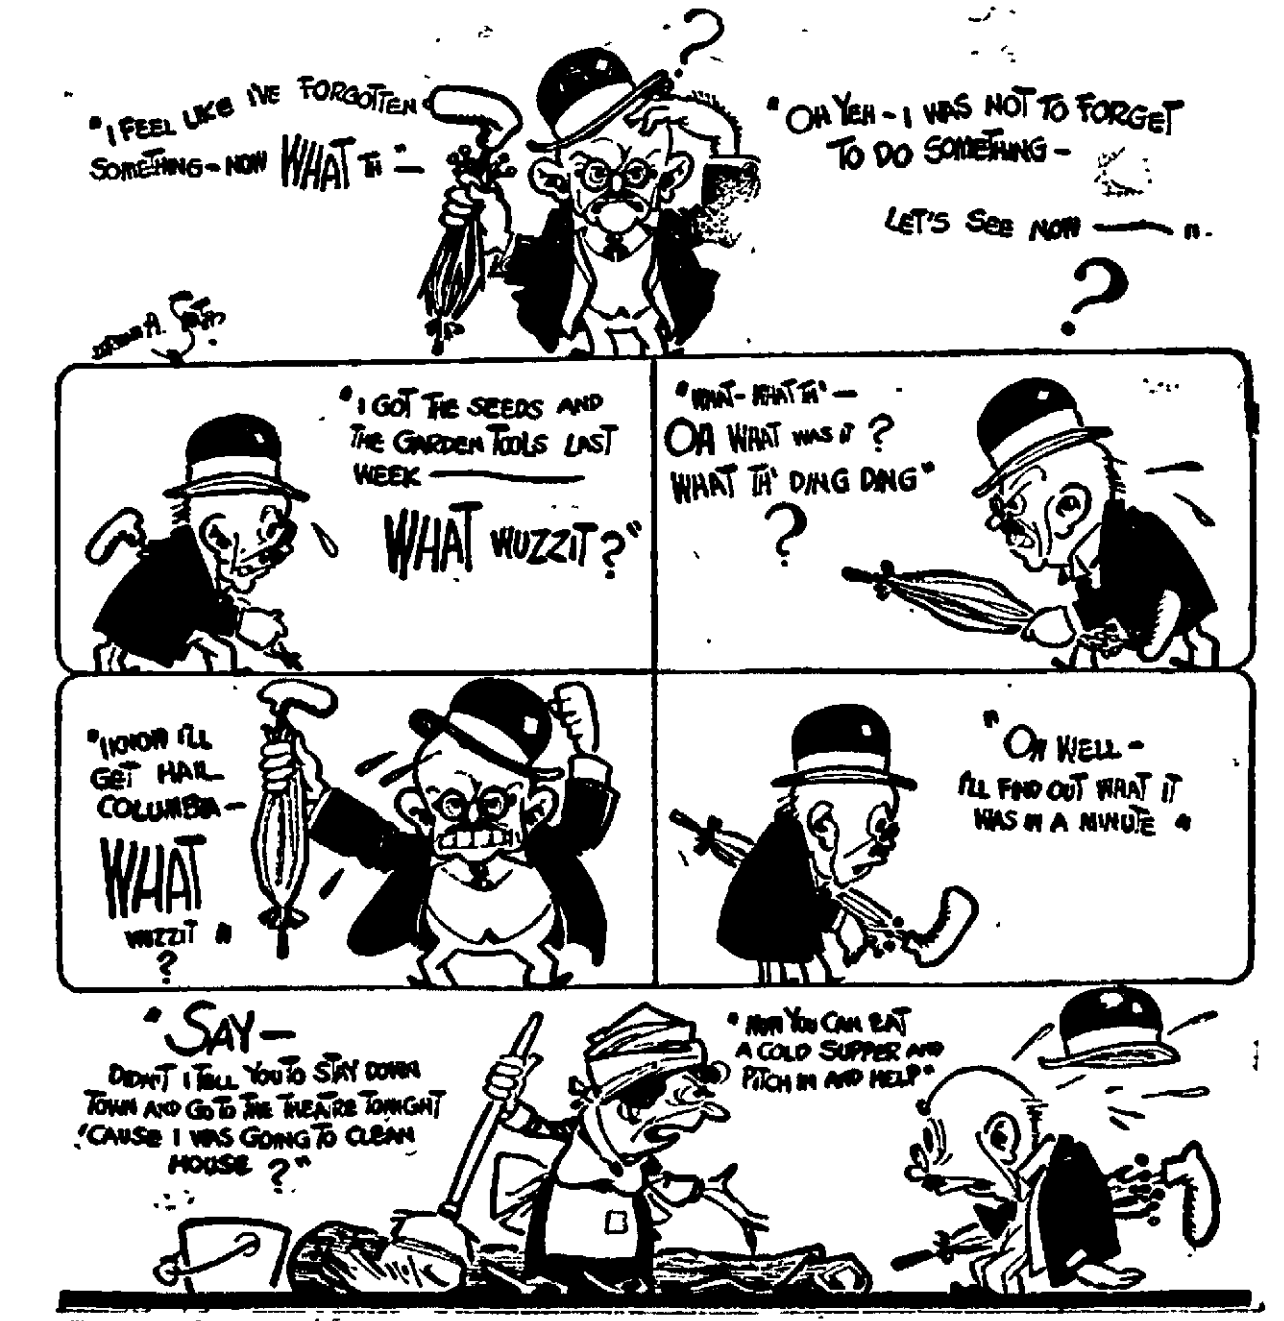

(From The Manchester Guardian.)

Marriage by proxy may be new to American and English law but it is recognized by Dutch law—the consent of the queen first being obtained. Marriages in this manner are of regular occurrence between brides and bridegrooms in the Dutch Indies.

The custom originated owing to the fact that wives of civil servants travel at reduced fares, whilst fiancées pay full fare. Also, it is more convenient for a girl to travel as "Metrouw" than as "Mejuffrouw." An unmarried girl would require a chaperon, but "Metrouw" may travel alone. The results are often amusing.

One meets a Dutch friend at 10 o'clock at night or midnight in the Simpson club in Soerabaja or the Harmonie club in Batavia, who insists on buying champagne for all comers. An inquiry if the reason for the hospitality and his condition is a birthday or an advance of salary elicits the answer, "Oh, no—I was married today." A newcomer is apt to stand aghast at a bridegroom decidedly "lit up" in his club on his wedding night until he finds that the wedding took place 7,000 miles away and the bride will arrive in three weeks.

SPRING IS NOT ALL SUNSHINE AND POSIES

Start Fund So Girls Can Go To Camp

Minature Tents In Business Houses Expected To Gather Stray Coins

It will take only 110 nickels, 55 dimes or 22 quarters to send an Appleton girl scout or camp fire girl to Onaway island for a week at the Appleton Women's club camp. Within a few days little tents, minatures of those used at camp will be placed in the business places where the camp committees hope that stray pieces of change will find their way.

The cost of the camp is merely that of maintenance and transportation, $5.50 a week. Under the direction of Appleton Women's club recreation department, it is conducted by expert counselors who receive no pay for their work during that time. Many of the camp fire girls and scouts have earned their way to camp for a week, most of the troops have been working hard to lessen the financial burden for the girls individually but even with all this work there are still a few girls in Appleton who will not be able to go to camp unless a camp fund is established.

Because neither girl scouts nor camp fire girls are allowed to take part in tag days in which they can die indefinite sums of money and because the committees did not want to approach the business houses for donations, the tent plan for voluntary contributions was adopted. The fund so raised will be handled by the committees and the captains and guardians of the groups.

LEGION CARNIVAL ATTENDED BY BIG CROWD WEDNESDAY

Two Day Entertainment to Help Legion Treasury Ends Tonight

Kaukauna—Hundreds of Kaukauna people visited the high school auditorium Wednesday evening and attended the American legion carnival. BOY MAYOR WILL "CLEAN UP" CITY

Washburn—Led by the new 23-year-old mayor, Paul Ungoldt, the newly elected city council will start at city housecleaning at its first meeting, Apr. 15.

Council members have admitted that changes are contemplated in all of the appointive offices, including city clerk, health officer, street commissioner, chief of police, and school board members.

Election night, after the returns had been counted, the old council held a special meeting and appointed a new school board to hold over into the next administration. All of these appointments will be removed at the council meeting Apr. 15.

It is understood the chief of police appointment will go either to Ole Holmes or to John Love, both of whom are strong supporters of the new administration.

Washburn's 23-year-old mayor was elected by a 2 to 1 majority over Ed Bryan, a candidate running under the colors of Congressman H. H. Peavey.

She Has Money Galore But Can't Spend Cent

GEORGEANNA RUSIN

Lorain, O.—Georgeanna Rusin, 12, has $300,000, but her mother won't let her have a cent of it.

"The money might spoil her," her mother explains. "Wealth does not bring happiness. So Georgeanna dresses like her playmates, attends public school and does the same home work she did before she obtained the $300,000. Georgeanna—probably one of the country's richest girls of her age—must remain the daughter of a housekeeper, without a car or governess."

Georgeanna's mother was housekeeper for George L. Buell, wealthy real estate dealer. Buell never had a child of his own, so he lavished his affection on Georgeanna. When he died he left the greater part of his fortune to the child.

"I wish it never had happened," says her mother. "I live in terror that my little girl will not remain the same Georgeanna."

PROMINENT MEN ON PROGRAM OF ROTARY MEETING

Half Dozen Cities Will Make
Fight for 1925
Conference

Prominent speakers from many parts of the country will take part in the program for the tenth district conference of Rotary which is to be held here April 23 and 24. Among the speakers will be Crawford McCullough, past president of Rotary International.

A half dozen cities, it is said, will bid for the 1925 conference. Madison already is in the field and other cities are preparing to make a strenuous fight for the selection.

The meeting will be opened Apr. 23, with music by the Lawrence college Glee club. Lee Raser, Appleton, will welcome the Rotarians, and the response will be delivered by Herbert Laffin, Milwaukee. The convention session will be called to order by W. H. Parker, Madison, district governor, with an invocation by the Rev. Harry Peabody, Appleton.

Among the first day speakers will be Mr. Parker, who will talk on Rotary's Future; Robert Timmons, Wichita, Kas., whose subject will be Sportmanship; Phil A. Koehring, Milwaukee, speaking on Ethics in Business; J. W. Jackson, Madison, speaking on Classification; Douglas M. Bloch, Chicago, on Some Sinners I Have Met; Bishop Harris of Marquette university, on Challenge Ties, and E. G. Hildner, Houghton, on Fellowship. Carl Waterman, Appleton, will be music leader.

Nominations for district governor will be received Apr. 30. Father Paul, Waupun, will deliver the invocation. Convention reports will be made by George Wetengel, Appleton, Benjamin C. Brown, New Orleans, will discuss Rotary Organization and Achievements, and Sherman Rogers, New York, will talk on the Third Side of Industry. Past District Governor Olmstead, Green Bay, will be another speaker, and Past President Crawford McCullough, Ontario, will talk on World-Wide Rotary. The meeting will close Wednesday afternoon with the selection of the next meeting place and the presentation of the new district governor.

OPPOSE CAMPAIGN TO KILL OFF CROWS

Agricultural organizations, conservationists and bird societies all over the country are creating considerable opposition to the campaign launched by a large powder company to exterminate the crow, claiming that while the crow has some criminal tendencies it does much more good than harm that is charged against it. It is claimed that the drive against the crow is merely an effort of the powder company to sell more shells and that it will do a great deal of harm to agricultural interests and will seriously disturb birds which are protected by law.

Agricultural organizations hold that the crow is of great benefit to the farmer because of its warfare against bugs, worms and field mice. The crows keep down these pests which would soon cause huge destruction of crops if crows were killed off. It is argued that the country has developed for 150 years with the crow here and it is not probable that the bird is not causing more damage now than it did in the past. Farmers are being urged not to engage in ruthless slaying of crows. It is necessary now and then to kill the crows which destroy corn seedlings but a campaign of extermination will leave the corn seedlings open to attack by an army of worms which will do more damage than the crows ever did.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Sulfated coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and gentle, and is better than anything else you can use. Two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Sulfated coconut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

YOUNG AND YOUNG

A Delightful Romance!
It is unusual to read an interesting and exciting romance in short story form—especially one written by a famous author! Such a story, Calico During Dinner, by Arnold Bennett is one of the features in the next issue of Millonair Journal. For sale at all news-stands.

Bulletin Tells How To Look For Gas Pipe Leaks

The United States bureau of mines, probably alarmed by the large number of accidents resulting from the careless practice of lighting matches to look for gas leaks, has prepared a bulletin that tells how leaks can be hunted without danger to the hunter. The bulletin warns specifically against using matches.

"Most gas meters," says the bureau of mines, "have a small dial indicating one-half, 1, or 2 cu. ft. of gas per revolution of the hand, and one of the uses of such dial is to detect leakage."

"From time to time consumers should shut off all appliances and note whether the hand on this dial moves during a period of two or three hours. Meters do not move unless gas is passing through them, hence if the hand continues to move it is conclusive evidence that gas is leaking somewhere on the premises."

"Gas leaks may be found by brushing the pipe and appliances with soapy water, as escaping gas will form bubbles."

"Fire should never be used in searching for leaks, as this is dangerous."

"Leaks may be stopped temporarily if they are covered with soap and the pipe wrapped with tape or a cloth bandage, but a pipe fitter should be called immediately to make repairs."

APPLETON WISCONSIN

SCHNEIDER WANTS TO KEEP FOREIGN SEAMEN OUT OF U. S.

Appleton Congressman Proposes Amendment to Immigration Bill

BY G. HUNTER OSBORNE
Washington—Congressman Schneider of Wisconsin has prepared two amendments to the immigration bill which will be offered to the measure on the floor of the House and which will have in view the elimination of the practice of alien seamen of remaining in this country after securing admission on seamen landing cards.

The major provisions of Schneider's proposals are:

First—That more careful examination shall be made of foreign seamen by American immigration officials to determine whether they really are bona fide seamen or whether they have a disease which would exclude them from entry.

Second—That every foreign ship entering a port of the United States must take out of the port a crew equal in size to the one brought in.

Third—That no ship be admitted to an American port from a country whose subjects are admissible to the United States in the event that any member of its crew is a member of a nationality excluded from entry under the immigration laws.

GET RESULTS WANTED

The effect of Schneider's amendments, he says, would be to bring about the real results contemplated by the pending immigration bill, as well as to enable vessels of the American Merchant Marine to compete on more equal terms with their foreign competitors. The Badger State congressman points out in this connection that the ships in this country usually have the same size crew both going to and coming from foreign countries, regardless of the size of the cargo brought back to the United States. This he says is due to the fact that virtually no American seamen desire to emigrate to foreign countries and that the captains of American vessels must draw their crews almost entirely from sailors of this country.

As the result, Schneider explains, foreign vessels have in many cases obtained an unfair advantage over their American competitors, since many members of their crews slip into the United States on land passes and remain here. In this way, he says, foreign ships have been able to make large savings in operating expenses.

"By requiring every vessel entering a port of the United States to carry out a crew equal in number to that brought," Schneider goes on, "one of the greatest evils encountered in administering the immigration laws will at least be measurably met. Experience has shown that vessels often bring more alien employees than are needed to operate the vessel; and sometimes this is deliberately done in order to further violations and evasions of the immigration laws. If each vessel is forced to carry away as many as its brings in, profit from bribing supernumeraries will be materially cut down, and this particular temptation will be correspondingly reduced. Foreign ships coming to our ports are supposed, so far as the laws of their own countries are concerned, to carry their own crew men back to the foreign port of shipment. There is no good reason why our laws should either encourage or permit them to do otherwise, especially when to do so results in the constant and continuous increase of our alien population, contrary to an established immigration policy."

TWO RURAL CARRIERS USE AUTOMOBILES ON ROUTES

Automobile travel is now possible on at least two of the United States mail routes that lead out of Appleton. It was proven by rural carriers on those routes. They are John Freude, Route 2, and Chester Riesenweber, Route 7. They made the initial trip by car last Saturday and each day the going has been improving. The rains of the last few days have done much to bring out the frost and make the roads more firm. Many of the roads are still rough and deeply rutted, the carriers say, and if the car wheels once get into a rut, it is in most instances quite impossible to get out very soon.

ROCK-CO BATTLES FOR OPEN ROADS

Appleton is Watching Fight for Snow Removal—Situation Like Local One

Appleton Chamber of Commerce is watching the movement started by Rock-co to keep the principal highways open all winter. Janesville is leading the campaign to have the county board consider snow removal for next winter, while the matter still is foremost in the minds of the people.

That county's study brings forth some of the same conclusions reached here in a discussion at a recent meeting of retail merchants. One of these was that the county made a mistake in letting the highway investment in the millions lie idle three or four months out of the year. Another was that the roads could be kept free from snow if proper equipment is purchased.

Rock-co also shares the view, many local snow removal advocates, that no county can succeed by itself. The ultimate need is for state legislation requiring the state trunk line to be kept in condition for motor traffic. The reason is that one county's work would be futile if the next one to it would permit its roads to be blocked.

Every community that has snow bound highways lets its people go back 20 years for a part of every year, according to the Janesville arguments. Motor traffic has advanced civilization and counties will be obliged to keep pace. If there were snow 12 months in a year, a solution

DRY LAW VIOLATORS PAY $6,300 FINES IN MARCH

A total of $6,300 in fines was assessed against dry law violators in various courts of the state during March, and $500 in federal court, according to the federal prohibition department report. There were 434 federal inspections; 74 state search warrants were issued; 34 state arrests; 15 federal cases and 21 federal arrests; four federal and 3 state convictions; six cars seized.

would be found quickly. It is said, and the same energy should be applied in the present situation.

Illustrations are given from Kenosha, Oshkosh, Racine and Milwaukee counties, where long stretches of road are kept open all winter, showing that the average cost ranges from $140 to $280 a mile for the season. "V" snowplows nine feet wide and caterpillar tractors are recommended as the most satisfactory equipment.

STRIBLING IS DUE HERE THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Georgia Schoolboy Is "Awkwardly Clever" In Milwaukee Trial Tilt

Changes in Seating Arrangements Increase Capacity of Armory G; Schoendorf Plans to See Rival.

Stribling and his party were due to arrive in Appleton at 2:45 P. M. Thursday, according to a telephone message from Milwaukee, and "Gunner" Joe Quinn, probably will arrive on the same train.

According to a Milwaukee sport writer who watched the Georgia schoolboy work out, Stribling is "awkwardly clever, but a vicious body puncher." Some of the Milwaukee scribes stated his weight was 175 pounds, but the contract call for 165, and according to "Pa," his present weight is 164 pounds. That he will be considerably heavier than Quinn is a certainty for the Gunner will fight at 155 pounds or less.

The new seating arrangements in Armory G have increased the capacity of the hall slightly, and consequently there still is a large block of good seats left. The ticket sale at the box office will start at 6:30 P. M. Friday night, and it looks as though the entrance to Armory G will be hard to reach on the big night. Jack Schoendorf of Milwaukee, who starred with Stribling for ten rounds at Columbus, O., has reserved a number of tickets for the battle, and plans to be in attendance with a large number of his Milwaukee friends.

OPENER IS CHANGED

A change has been made in the opening fight, in which Washie Hendricks of Kaukauna was scheduled to meet Ed Wickman of Oshkosh. Wickman sprained his ankle in training, and Edna Johnson, Appleton fight promoter, has substituted Bill Erickson, another classy Oshkosh battler.

The fighters will be weighed in and examined by Dr. D. J. O'Connor at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Frank Cook will do the announcing, and Mark Catlin will represent the state boxing commission.

CLOSED SEASON IS LEGAL, EKERN SAYS

Hook and Line Fishing Barred Between March 1, and June 1

Madison—The law passed by the 1923 legislature establishing a general closed season from March 1 to June 1, for hook and line fishing for all game fish in Wisconsin is legal and applicable to all lakes and streams in the state unless specifically exempted. Attorney General Herman L. Ekers ruled Thursday in an opinion to Elmer S. Hall, conservation commissioner.

The ruling was issued in connection with attempts to make the law non-applicable to Lake Winnebago and certain other lakes in the state. The effect of the ruling is to make these waters subject to the closed season. "It can hardly be said that it is unreasonable or absurd in abolishing open season for hook and line fishing for game fish in certain localities and in providing a general closed season therefore over all the state," Attorney General Ekers said.

WOLPIN SIGNS FOR BATTLE WITH NUSS

Billy Wolpin, fighting railroadman, is preparing to return to the ring. Billy has started training for a ten round fight with Jimmy Nuss. De Fere, as the winner of a fight card at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., on April 30. Wolpin has been guaranteed $250 and all expenses or he may take 25 per cent of the gate receipts. He has started training and expects to be in shape soon. Wolpin hasn't had a fight since last July.

8 Spitball Stars Left In Big Tops

How long will it be before the spitball becomes a thing of the past in the major leagues? When legislation was passed against the use of the spitball, 21 pitchers in the big show were using it.

These pitchers were given the right to continue its use during the remainder of their career in the majors.

The number of pitchers still using the moist delivery has dwindled to eight. Seven of them are right-handers, one a southpaw.

In all probability Ulan Shocker of the Browns will be the last to part with the spitball, which he uses only on occasion.

No pitcher in the major leagues throws then, up more than Shocker, converting his strength at all times

INTERLAKE A. A. OFFICERS NAMED AT BIG BANQUET

Seventy Two Members Entertained by Music and Speeches Tuesday

Seventy-two members of the Interlake Athletic association Tuesday evening were entertained at a banquet given in Odd Fellows hall here. A number of interesting addresses helped to furnish an entertaining evening. The banquet was followed by the election of officials for the coming year.

A. Kessler was elected president, and following members of the council also were named: F. Kessler, Charles Kirk, Ray Younger, C. O'Boyle. The musical part of the program was rendered by a quartet from Kaukauna, whose singing was one of the chief attractions of the evening. Albert Lindstrom, Everett Lindstrom, Joseph Shermittler and Albert Niesing composed the quartet.

After the business session, H. A. Babcock, recently returned from Europe, told of the impressions he had gathered there in an interesting talk. He was followed by W. R. Drumb of Wisconsin Rapids, who spoke on the Employers Benefit association. The newly elected president and council were to meet again at 4:30 P. M. Thursday to discuss the baseball schedule for the coming season, and also to arrange other spring and summer sports. The meeting was to be held in the council room of the Interlake mill.

Indians Leave Spring Camp For North Today

Hollocher, Last Holdout of Chicago Nationals, Will Join Club in Time for Opener, Is Reported.

Charles Hollocher, regular Chicago National shortstop, a holdout because of differences regarding salary for the 1924 season, when he left the team because of illness, may come to terms with club officials in time for the season opener with the St. Louis Cardinals, according to rumor. Hollocher is the club's last holdout.

Three Cub rookies were sent back to the minors Wednesday—Pitcher Rip Collins, Rochester, Ill., revert to the Birmingham Three Eys league club and Pitcher Zip Dumovich and outfielder Tony Murray being shipped to Florida, Ill.

Vic Aldridge Hoosier heavyweight, appeared in mid-season form against the Kansas City Blues and the Cubs won 6 to 3, reversing last year's score, when the Blues won four games.

Joe Ravell, Chicago American candidate for a berth in an already top-heavy outfield, was the hero of the White Sox 5 to 4 victory over the New York Giants at Evansville. He tied the score in the seventh and made the winning run in the tenth.

LAWRENCE PLANS TRACK MEET FOR VALLEY CONFERENCE

First Carnival of Kind in Years Will Be Held Here on May 17

Six schools of the Fox River Valley high school conference will clash for the first time in years in an interscholastic track and field meet planned by Arthur C. Denney, athletic director of Lawrence college, for May 17, on the Lawrence athletic field here.

Denney made the proposal for the meet at the convocation of coaches held at the Conway hotel Wednesday afternoon, and the plan met with the unanimous approval of the school officials. Two of them however, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, were doubtful of their ability to participate in such a meet this year, and unwilling to make a promise which they might not be able to keep.

Appleton, East Green Bay, Manitowoc, Marinette, Sheboygan and West Green Bay indicated their willingness to take part in the meet, and will send teams here on the proposed date. All prizes will be furnished by the Lawrence athletic association, and the visiting athletes will be lodged and entertained by the various fraternity houses here.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Fond du Lac Tank Stars Swim Here In Dual Meet

Swimming Tournament in Y. M. C. A. Pool Saturday Will Be First Affair of Its Kind in Appleton for Years.

Fond du Lac will send a delegation of crack swimmers to Appleton Saturday to compete in a dual tank meet in the Y. M. C. A. pool here. This is the first event of this kind held in Appleton, and is causing a great deal of enthusiasm among fans.

Appleton will be represented by Harry Colvin, Reeve Colvin, Ancil Riche, Leonard Hendrickson, Clifford McCullough, Beverly Murphy, Nick Christoph, Howard Aderhold and Reed Havens.

Some interesting events have been arranged, which will furnish entertainment for the spectators and also keen competition for the contending swimmers. Following are the main features of the schedule: 20-yard back stroke, 20-yard crawl stroke, 40-yard free style, 100-yard free style, fancy diving, plunge for distance, and relay race.

THREE DIVES REQUIRED
Three dives will be required of each contestant in the fancy diving events. The front, jack-knife and swan dives were chosen as the regular requirement, and in addition each entrant may take two optional dives. They will be judged according to the difficulty of the dive and the grace of execution.

The relay race will consist of four lengths of the Y. M. C. A. pool, 20 yards to each length.

The Fond du Lac team is reputed to be one of the best in the Fox River Valley, and will give the local entrants a hard run for their money.

However, several of the Appleton swimmers took part in the Lawrence Interglac meet during the state basketball tournament here, and set up several very creditable records.

Seven Orange Stars Receive Caging Letter

Seven basketball players and the student manager of Appleton's high school Wednesday were awarded their letters during the assembly period, and five of them made their adieu to the school as members of the team.

The following received the coveted "A" together with certificates of award: Erwin Koll, Clifford Courtney, William Hornbeck, Milton Scheurle, Arnold Hillman, Beverly Murphy and Kenneth Schwager. Ben Wadsworth, student manager, also received his letter.

The certificate of award is a new departure. It is an engraved card with the insignia of the school embossed in colors, certifying that the bearer has received a letter in the particular branch of sports mentioned on the certificate.

Koll and Courtney are the only lettermen who will be back on the team next year, but with Frazer and Hiebel, who played as substitutes this year almost sure to return. Coach David Wilson will have a good nucleus on which to build.

ADVERTISING FUND APPEAL GETS QUICK RESPONSE IN CITY

Outagamie-co People Are Awake to Benefits from National Advertising

A splendid response has been received from the people of Outagamie-co to the appeal for $2,000 which is the county's quota of the $50,000 that is being raised in the state by Wisconsin. The Land O'Lakes, to advertise the Wisconsin. About $400 was received in the first mail after the opening of the campaign and more is coming in every hour. The Outagamie-co committee is hopeful that the entire sum can be raised in less than ten days if the people of the county awaken to a realization of what advertising will mean to them.

REACH 25,000,000 people will be reached by the advertisements which are to be placed by the Land O'Lakes association. The combined circulation of the newspapers and magazines in which space will be bought is about 8,000,000 and extends over the entire middlewest from which most of the people who come into Wisconsin are drawn. It is the most ambitious advertising project ever undertaken in the state but is far smaller than the advertising which has made the west coast states familiar to every reader. About $6,000,000 is being expended to advertise west coast states this year and many more millions have been spent in the past until today the advantages and resources of the west coast states are better known in Wisconsin than are Wisconsin's own.

Every person in Outagamie-co is eligible to membership in Wisconsin Land O'Lakes, Inc. Memberships sell for $1 and up but those who are most directly benefited from the business which advertising brings to the state are expected to give much more liberally so the quota for the county can be obtained.

Checks are to be made payable to Wisconsin. The Land O'Lakes committee and addressed to that committee at the chamber of commerce.

Handel Poor Man When "Messiah" Was Given Public 182 Years Ago

Oratorio Will Be Presented in
All Its Beauty and Fervor
When Chorus of 250 and Orchestra Gives It Here at Easter.

When the people of Appleton and vicinity hear the community chorus sing Handel's "Messiah" Easter Sunday and Monday at Lawrence Memorial chapel, they will listen to an oratorio that is 182 years old, yet still is in the front rank among the musical expressions of the Easter story.

This will be the first time the complete oratorio has been sung in Appleton, and it will be done with an excellence such as far larger cities attain. The chorus of 250 voices under Dean Carl J. Waterman, the Chicago, Milwaukee and Appleton soloists, the orchestra of 25 pieces trained by Percy Fullinwider and the organ music by Frank A. Tober, Jr., will give its presentation all the coloring, fervor and volume that is needed to do justice to the theme.

People are asked to purchase tickets early next week for the Monday night program, as they will be provided with reserved seats and will avoid the crowds of Sunday night, when admission will be free. The price is moderate—only enough to pay the expenses of about $700.

COMPLETED IN 23 DAYS

The "Messiah" was written by Handel in the summer of 1874 and completed in the record time of 23 days. He was bankrupt at the time because of an unsuccessful musical season in Italian opera in London. The first presentation reestablished him, however, and it brought him fame in the 34 times it was sung during his life time.

At the Handel commemoration in Westminster Abbey, London, 25 years after his death, it was presented on a scale commensurate with its merit and the composer's purpose, the history of the composition says.

It was then presented by the largest body of singers and musicians that had ever, at that time, assembled—a chorus of 267 voices and an orchestra of 242 instruments. The Appleton chorus will be almost as large, with 250 singers.

The theme of the "Messiah" is the foreshadowing, the advent, the sufferings and the final triumph of Christ.

TELLS PASSION STORY

The first part of the work voices the longing of the world for its Redeemer, beginning with the words of Isaiah, "Comfort ye, my people, saith your God," and ending in the birth of Christ, with the invitation to follow

Him, "For His yoke is easy and His burden is light."

The second part describes the sufferings of the Messiah ("Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world"), closing with His victory over the grave, and ascension into heaven, expressed in that greatest of all choral numbers, "The Hallelujah" chorus.

The third part notes the effect of Christ's sacrifice upon the world and expresses the aspirations of religious faith, beginning with the famous aria for soprano, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," and closing with the choral numbers, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain," "Blessing and honor, glory and power be unto Him," and the final "Amen" chorus, in which, untrammelled by words, the composer gives free rein to his intense religious enthusiasm and presents a stupendous climax.

Tickets may be obtained from committees in cooperating church and will be on sale at Belling drug store next week.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

HORSE TRAMPLED ON BY MATES IN EXPRESS CAR

The carload of horses for J. Ulman & Co., shipped by express from Volke City, Ia., arrived at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul depot on Tuesday. There was no stampede this time in unloading the car, but one of the horses was badly injured by being trampled upon in the car by others. It was on the floor when the car was opened and its head, neck, legs and side were bruised and lacerated. It was unable to stand on its feet and was removed from the car with a block and tackle and was placed in a motor truck and taken to the company's stables on Morrison-st. The horse is now able to move about and eat and there is every indication it will recover.

From the look Ruth gave me, little Marquise, when I told her of my suspicions about Sydney Carton I understood she was too dazed to speak.

"Yes, I know, dear," I began, "you never knew I was a pessimistic philosopher before, did you?"

"No two persons of different sex, no matter how closely they are bound together, ever live under the same conditions. I have my own standards which I know are very different from Jack's."

"I have heard you say many times, Ruth, that you wish you could solve the whys and wherefores of marriage. Of course being a woman like yourself, I knew that you did not mean why the church and state say marriage is not only a lawful but a respectable state. What you are trying to get at was just why two people who are perfectly matched—as we say—about each other before marriage cannot live happily together afterward, and what seems the very climax and fruition of love seems to be the very thing which makes for discord and death of it."

"The whole truth of the matter is that we expect too much of marriage; marriage, which is usually built upon a tissue of lies. We are not truthful with ourselves nor with those we love and we expect from all the foolishly acted and senselessly spoken untruth to bring forth truth."

"We might as well expect to bring forth a healthy child from parents with diseased bodies."

"From marriage we expect a succession of thrills that will turn the monotony of life into something of which we vaguely dream but never realize."

"Sometimes, Ruth, I have an almost irresistible desire for once to be myself with Jack, for once to tell the truth as I am telling it now. I wonder what he would do if I should go to him this minute and explain the whole thing; tell him about the pearls; ask him about the baby; tell him just what I have done and ask him to tell me just what he has done. I mean all those things which neither of us have told each other."

"I don't think he would understand, Leslie," said, Ruth, slowly, "and, dear, I don't think you would understand either. That is the only thing that married people know about married life. Each knows that the other is full of misunderstanding."

TOMORROW: The discussion continues—The curse of love.

Must have its reasons! Can you tell me why?"

Well sir! Everybody nearly guessed his head off. But not a person could get it. Not even Nancy and Nick, and usually they could guess anything. "Perhaps the kitchen is in the cellar," "Some are," said the Crooked Man, whose front door went in the back way.

"No," the Riddle Lady shook her head. "Not this cellar."

"And a season just cannot be in the house," declared the Old Woman, who lived under the hill.

"This one can," smiled the Riddle Lady. "There are other seasons besides summer and winter and spring and fall. Perhaps I should have said 'The four seasons' instead."

"That let the cat out of the bag!" "Salt!" shouted everybody at once.

"That's right," laughed the Riddle Lady. "But there is no prize. You were all too slow!"

Now, of course, my dear, this riddle sounds as easy as pie for you, but nobody knew what it was but the Twins. They knew for many reasons. First, because they had worked in the Fairland Postoffice helping Mister Stamp. But anyway—did you ever, ever, ever hear of anyone in Mother Goose Land writing a letter?

Yes, that's what it was, a letter, and Nancy guessed it and not a nib of writing paper of her own with pictures on it. The Mother Goose people thought it was curious.

"Now then, for the third riddle," said the Riddle Lady. "Listen carefully:

"It lives in a cellar, but never leaves the kitchen. It's one of the seasons. Yes, never sees the sky. Can be full of holes. But never puts a stitch in."

Appleton Stores Filled With Pretty Accessories For New Spring Clothes

Each spring it seems that the new novelties and dress accessories are much lovelier and of more variety than in the past and it certainly is true of this season. Appleton stores are full of pretty new things and while most of them are not essential, they add a touch of smartness and completeness to any costume.

The costs are less than is to be expected, for although many of the things can't be had for a song, yet it doesn't seem as though things were quite as expensive this year. For instance you can get a smart cane for $1, and canes are quite the thing this season.

The more expensive canes have amber tips and handles and are really exquisite things. Others are painted bright colors and have figures or designs stenciled on. All have wrist bands, usually made of leather. The canes look best with sport outfits and you'll find that you can get a cane to go with every costume. So varied are the styles and colors.

MYSTERIOUS SCARFS
In all the shops you find a splendid assortment of scarfs ranging from mysterious Spanish mantillas to gaudy sport scarfs to be worn with sport togs. Then there are others of fine glove silk, fringed all the way around, and still others knit of soft wool in dainty colors that look as though they might be mighty "comfy" on a cool night. The real Spanish lace scarfs are the most expensive, for they are priced at $12 and $25. Two dollars will buy a sport scarf, but of course there are many that are more expensive, depending upon the quality of the article. The glove silk scarfs are of ten woven into lacy patterns that remind you somewhat of the Spanish shawls.

BEADS ARE POPULAR
All the stores are displaying beads, bracelets and often ear drops, to match. These can be bought separately or in sets, but they are so attractive it would be hard to purchase one and not the other. A great many of the beads this season are made of composition or wood, making them preferable to the old type of glass beads because they are so much lighter. But of course if you want a string of crystal beads there is no composition that takes its place. Right here it can be said that you see innumerable strings of crystal beads this season, sometimes combined with colors but more often used alone, and they are very lovely.

Many strings of amber beads are on display and any number of composition beads are made in coral colors, green, pink, mottled shades, in fact in almost any color you prefer.

There are so many pretty gloves on the market right now and in such variety that it seems impossible that people pass them by for other things. Some of the prettiest have shirred wrists of bright colors; others tiny rosettes on the wrist through which a band is drawn. They look so pretty with a spring suit and lend a touch that many other things fail to accomplish.

HANKIES AT $5
If you have a spring suit you may be interested in the tiny handkerchiefs that are so fetching tucked in.

well-ordered existence. He has an air about him of being dependable, while a person badly clothed is justly suspected of being careless in other things also. To be sure, no man is admitted for giving over-anxious attention to his clothes, but few men today would argue that an ill-fitting suit was a help in business. For clothes are perhaps the most important single item in giving a good first impression.

"PRIDE IN APPEARANCE"
This change may be summed up in a phrase: "Pride in Appearance." Men regard clothes today as something more than a necessity. They regard them as a source of constant pleasure and satisfaction, and as a standard by which the world at large measures their social standing. Men have come to realize that they owe it to themselves, their families and their positions to dress well.

"This movement for better dress, the 'Pride in Appearance' movement, is sweeping the country. It is evidenced by the attitude of men in buying clothes. In the past little attention was given to anything but whether a suit of clothes would wear. Today this is not enough. A man demands also that it be well-tailored, that it be correct, that it be a matter of spending more money, but of choosing clothes more carefully, and as a result he chooses his clothes with more care. In a word, he has come to know more about clothes and has become more discriminating."

"The 'Pride in Appearance' movement is also evidenced by the attitude taken by clothing manufacturers. Manufacturers who are quick to respond to public opinion, realize the importance of the movement and are paying more attention to the character of their product. As a result, better values are to be found in men's clothes today than have ever before been offered—values which make it possible for every man to be better dressed—to take 'Pride in Appearance.'"

"We think this movement so significant and so far-reaching in its effect," added Mr. Hughes "that beginning today and until Easter Sunday we are donating both our store and our advertising entirely to a special 'Pride in Appearance' Event."

SEEK DE MOLAYAN TO GO TO EUROPE

Appleton Chapter Will Endeavor to Place Candidate Among Contenders

John F. Rose chapter, Order of DeMolay, will endeavor to have one of its members made a candidate for the European journey which has been arranged by the grand council of the order. A call has gone out from the grand lodge headquarters at Kansas City, Mo. for 50 members with an outstanding record of achievement and a promise of unusual leadership.

From these fifty DeMolays one will be chosen to represent DeMolay as an observer at the British Empire exposition at London, the Olympic games at Paris, and the National boy scout jamboree at Copenhagen. All expenses of the young man will be paid when he embarks for Europe with a party, which will leave this country, June 21, under trained leadership, for a ten weeks' educational tour.

Every DeMolay in good standing will be eligible. The choice will be entirely upon the basis of merit, as evidence of ability to measure up to high standards of young manhood in the physical, mental, social and spiritual phases of life. He must be an unusually well-balanced, well rounded out typical American young man, eager for the best possible education and to express himself in public clearly and convincingly, and must be well informed on the happenings of the day, which constitute history in the making.

BETTER ALFALFA IF SEED IS INOCULATED

County Farm Agent Obtains
Supply of Inoculation Material for Farmers

Farmers desirous of inoculating their alfalfa seed may obtain the necessary material from Robert A. Amundson county agricultural agent. Mr. Amundson now has about 200 bottles of alfalfa culture on hand. It has been put up by the Wisconsin College of Agriculture and sells for 25 cents a bottle.

In some parts of the country land left uncultivated will soon produce a fair growth of legumes. This method of securing a stand is not profitable because considerable time is required for the production of the pasture. The planting of legumes without inoculation is similar to the hit-or-miss system of securing a pasture. In fields which are seeded the legume will gradually become inoculated just as the soil gradually develops a crop of will.

Don't Neglect
Your Kidney's
ARE you miserable with an aching back? Get up lame and stiff; drag around tired, weak and depressed? Then you should help your kidneys. Backache is often the first sign of weakening kidneys. Neglected, there's danger of serious kidney sickness. Don't wait! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. Are endorsed here at home. Ask your neighbor!

HERE'S AN APPLETON CASE
A. A. Doepker, 1177 DeForest Ave., says: "A sharp pain cut into my back and I could hardly get about. My back became sore. My kidneys acted too freely and sometimes the secretions were highly colored. Members of my family recommended Doan's Pills so I bought some. Two boxes of Doan's cured me."

Below are the names of a few of his many satisfied patients in Wisconsin. Mr. Gus Anderson, Route 2, Argyle, Wis., heart and stomach trouble.

Mrs. E. C. Cook, 701 So. Hazel St., Glenwood, Ia., Ulcers of the leg.

Mrs. G. O. Tilleson, Route 8, Menomonie, Wis., gall bladder trouble and high blood pressure.

Miss Lena Johnson, DeForest, Wis., goitre.

legumes. If the legume is inoculated, the nodules bacteria naturally present in the soil in small numbers may come in contact with the roots of the legume and thus there is formed a small amount of what is known as natural inoculation.

If the farmer desires a good stand of clover, alfalfa, peas, beans or other legume, he should sow not only the proper seed but also the proper bacteria adapted to this particular crop, it is pointed out.

The cultures are grown in a jelly-like substance and distributed in bottles. Each bottle contains enough to inoculate 20 pounds of alfalfa or clover seed, 40 pounds of field or garden peas, or 20 pounds of soybeans, cow peas, garden beans and vetch.

Inoculation gives the plant a better start which may influence the rate of growth to the extent that it gives it greater uniformity of maturity.

Where we save

We save by enormous production—150,000 cars per year. Our major costs are all divided by that enormous output. It is utterly impossible for smaller makers to compete.

We save by modern plants, mostly built in the past five years. We save by up-to-date machines. By building our own parts and bodies.

See what this car offers

Come see what this Light-Six offers. How it excels in scores of ways any rival car.

Built with the same steels, the same care and skill, as the costliest of our cars. We have only one grade of chassis.

See its beauty, its comfort, its luxury. See how we have studied your every desire.

Do that and you will choose this car, if you have in mind a price anywhere near this.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance—

It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free. Clip the coupon below.

72-year traditions

The Studebaker name has for 72 years stood for quality and class. To build an ordinary car under that name is unthinkable.

Our assets are $90,000,000—all at stake on serving you better than all others.

We have $50,000,000 in model plants, equipped with 12,500 up-to-date machines. We have 23,000 workers, under profit-sharing plans which lead them to stay and develop.

A call came to the fire department at 7:15 Wednesday evening from the home of Matthew Deffording, 1074 Loraine-st. Another chimney fire burned at 11 o'clock in the morning at the home of Mrs. Alma Huss, 923 Onondaga-st. What Is Suggestotherapy And Why does it heal the sick?

H. C. Williams, D. S. T., D. C.

E. M. Williams, D. S. T.

Williams' Institute of Suggestive Therapeutics

779 College Ave.

WELTMER METHOD

Appleton, Wis.

Every method of treatment which has cures to its credit uses suggestions. And in most methods of treatment the Therapeutic Suggestions that are given are chiefly responsible for their success. Suggestive Therapeutics is the practice of healing by the use of Suggestion.

Suggestion and its use, is a key. It opens the door to the unlimited power which God has given each person—the healing power within every person.

Suggestive Therapeutics appeals directly to this healing power which is within you.

The methods used in the practice of Suggestive Therapeutics are varied to suit the particular needs of the patient. The most important are oral suggestions and manual suggestions.

Suggestion and its use in the healing of diseases is the simplest method in existence, as well as the one most often used. Suggestions is the fundamental principle underlying all methods of healing.

Do not lose sight of this fact—at least 85 per cent of the sick people who come to Suggestotherapy for healing have been abandoned as "Incurables" by medicine and surgery.

Suggestotherapy has stood several very severe investigations, the most severe of which resulted in the report that:—67 per cent of its patients have been cured or permanently benefited; 30 per cent additional, were well pleased; and found relief through this Method, while only 3 per cent were displeased.

Mind Rules The Body and Suggestion Rules The Mind

The Man or Woman who is sick should know two important things about Williams' Institute:

1st—What is the particular service we can give you?

2nd—What healing have we done in the past that merits your coming here?

In the treatment of the sick and afflicted, the Method of Suggestion, practiced here in our Institute has given complete relief and lasting benefits to many who considered themselves practically incurable.

From the time you arrive here sick, until you leave here, well, it is our desire and pleasure to give you just the attention and service that you require.

Evidence

In Court, it is evidence that counts. A witness who gives evidence is required to confine his statements to what he knows personally to be the facts of the case. He is not allowed to say what he heard, or what he believes, but must state only what he knows to be the truth.

So we are submitting to you in the foregoing pages of this Catalog, the evidence of those who tell you the facts of their cases. We submit to you only evidence of what is the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

You Too Can Regain Your Health

Are you seeking for health? Are you suffering from sickness? Are you unhappy and depressed? Have you searched for health, trying other methods WITHOUT results? Thousands who were sick many of them so-called "incurables," many who had no real outlook upon life have turned their lives to Health and Happiness through our Method of Suggestion.

Where Will You Be at 65?

Statistics show that out of every 100 average men and women—36 die of preventable diseases before they are 65.

Our Rates for Treatments, Room and Meals Will Be Given on Request
